IMPORTANT CHANGES

Sales by out-of-state vendors. An example was added (Example 6) to clarify that certain sales by an out-of-state business do not qualify as exempt occasional sales. Page 6.

Prizes purchased by concessionaires. Information was added to explain that concessionaires may purchase prizes without tax for resale. Page 6.

I. INTRODUCTION

This publication explains the tax treatment of sales by persons at temporary events such as swap meets, flea markets, and craft fairs. It also explains the requirements of organizers of temporary events to report information to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue relating to persons selling at such events.

For purposes of this publication, an event is an occurrence, occasion, activity, or function at which merchandise is sold or traded or taxable services are provided. The event can be on one day or consecutive days.

For example, when an event is held every weekend over a period of time, each weekend (consecutive days) constitutes a separate event. In addition to swap meets, flea markets, and craft fairs, the following are examples of other events: tradeshow, conventions, and consumer shows; community or association picnics, fairs, markets, or festivals; carnivals and fairs; fund raising events; and other similar occurrences, occasions, activities, or functions.

Note: Certain sales at temporary events which are subject to the 5% state sales and use tax may also be subject to the: (a) 0.5% county sales and use tax, (b) 0.1% baseball stadium sales and use tax, (c) 0.5% football stadium sales and use tax, (d) 0.25% food and beverage local exposition tax, and (e) 0.5% premier resort area tax. Additional information about these taxes is contained in the following:

(a) County tax: Publication 201, Wisconsin Sales and Use Tax Information, Section XVIII.

(b) Baseball stadium tax: Publication 201, Wisconsin Sales and Use Tax Information, Section XVIII. Applies to sales and purchases made in Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Racine, Washington, and Waukesha counties.

(c) Football stadium tax: Publication 201, Wisconsin Sales and Use Tax Information, Section XVIII. Applies to sales and purchases made in Brown County.

(d) Local exposition taxes: Publication 410, Local Exposition Taxes. Applies to sales and purchases of certain lodging, food, beverages, and car rentals in municipalities wholly or partially within Milwaukee County.

(e) Premier resort area tax: Publication 403, Premier Resort Area Tax. Applies to sales of tangible personal property and taxable services in the Village of Lake Delton, City of Wisconsin Dells, and City of Bayfield by certain retailers. The premier resort area tax will become effective on October 1, 2006 in the City of Eagle River.

Publications 201, 403, and 410 are available from any Department of Revenue office or on the department's web site.

CAUTION

The information in this publication reflects interpretations by the Wisconsin Department of Revenue of laws enacted by the Wisconsin Legislature as of June 1, 2006. Laws enacted after that date, new administrative rules, and court decisions may change the interpretations in this publication.

The examples and lists of taxable and exempt sales provided in this publication are not all-inclusive. They merely set forth common examples.

II. INFORMATION FOR SELLERS AT TEMPORARY EVENTS

For purposes of this publication, a seller is a person or entity selling merchandise or providing taxable services at a temporary event. A seller may also be referred to as a vendor, exhibitor, or booth owner.

A. What Are a Seller's Requirements?

Persons who sell tangible personal property or taxable services at temporary events may be responsible for obtaining a seller's permit from the Department of Revenue and for reporting and paying sales tax on sales at the events.

B. Who Needs a Wisconsin Seller's Permit?

Generally, sellers who have $1,000 or more in sales of tangible personal property and taxable services during the calendar year are required to have a seller's permit. A seller's permit allows a seller to make taxable sales of tangible personal property or services at all temporary events in Wisconsin.

Example: Seller A sells $5,000 of candy at various temporary events in Wisconsin. Seller A's sales of candy are subject to Wisconsin sales tax. Seller A is required to have a Wisconsin seller's permit.

C. Who Does Not Need a Seller's Permit?

Not all sellers are required to obtain a Wisconsin seller's permit. Some of the reasons a seller may not need a Wisconsin seller's permit are:

- They sell only tax-exempt items, such as vegetables or fruits for home consumption.

Example: Seller B sells bottles of maple syrup at temporary events in Wisconsin. The sale of maple syrup for consumption off the seller's premises is exempt from Wisconsin sales tax. Assuming that Seller B's only sales are of the maple syrup, Seller B is not required to have a Wisconsin seller's permit.

- The seller qualifies for the occasional sale exemption, as explained in Part II.F.3 on pages 4-6.

A seller who has questions regarding its requirement to hold a Wisconsin seller's permit should contact the Wisconsin Department of Revenue at (608) 266-2776 or send an e-mail to sales10@dor.state.wi.us.

D. How to Obtain a Seller's Permit

If a seller makes sales of tangible personal property or taxable services at a temporary event, and the sales do not qualify for any of the exemptions described in Part II.F. on pages 3-6, the seller must hold a seller's permit. If the seller does not hold a seller's permit prior to the temporary event, the seller may apply for the seller's permit and then make taxable sales at the event.

A seller's permit may be applied for by either of the following methods:

- Complete Form BTR-101, Application for Business Tax Registration, and mail it to the Department of Revenue. Form BTR-101 may be obtained from any Department of Revenue office or online at www.dor.state.wi.us/forms/sales/index.html.
- Use the Department of Revenue's online registration system and submit the application electronically. Go to <https://ww2.dor.state.wi.us/GenericFile/application?interview=1086489>.

E. What Sales Are Taxable?

1. General

All sales of tangible personal property at temporary events are taxable, unless an exemption applies. See Part II.F. on pages 3-6 for a discussion of exemptions.

“Tangible personal property” generally includes all tangible personal property of every kind and description.

Only certain services sold at temporary events are taxable.

2. Taxable Sales of Merchandise

Examples of taxable merchandise sold at temporary events include (this list is not all-inclusive):

- Antiques
- Artwork
- Automobile accessories, such as car care kits, seat covers, and steering wheel covers
- Books
- Candles
- Cleaning supplies and equipment
- Clothing
- Compact discs (CD’s) and tapes
- Computers
- Cosmetics
- Crafts and craft supplies
- Electronic equipment
- Flowers
- Food and beverages sold for consumption on the temporary event premises.
Note: Sales of certain items are taxable whether sold for consumption on or off the temporary event premises, including:
  - Beer
  - Candy bars
  - Ice Cream
  - Heated food and beverages, such as coffee
  - Meals
  - Popcorn
  - Sandwiches
  - Soda
- Furniture

- Jewelry
- Kitchenware
- Paintings
- Pets and pet supplies
- Photographs
- Plants
- Quilts
- Sporting goods
- Telephones
- Tools
- Toys
- Videos and video games

3. Taxable Sales of Services

Certain services are taxable. Examples of taxable services sold at temporary events include (this list is not all-inclusive):

- Admissions to amusement, athletic, entertainment, or recreational events or places, such as admissions to amusement rides, musical and dance performances, fairs, campgrounds, circuses, carnivals, ball games, races, festivals, and other spectator events.
- Admissions to customer participation games such as coin pitch, ring toss, short range basketball, or customer participation events, such as dancing or skating.
- Access to or the use of amusement devices such as video games, pinball machines, jukeboxes, mechanical rides, and mechanical games.
- Bingo admission charges, including bingo cards of all kinds sold to players.
- Photographic and video taping services, including the taking, producing, and selling of photographs.

- Parking and providing parking space for motor vehicles and aircraft.

See Part III.A. on page 6 for information about a concessionaire's purchase of prizes.

F. Exemptions

1. Sales by Nonprofit Organizations

Sales by nonprofit organizations may qualify for exemption from Wisconsin sales and use tax. See Publication 206, Sales Tax Exemption for Nonprofit Organizations, for information regarding sales by nonprofit organizations. Publication 206 is available from any Department of Revenue office or from the department's web site at www.dor.state.wi.us/html/taxpubs.html.

2. Exemption Claimed by Buyer

A seller may receive exemption certificates from buyers claiming various exemptions (for example, resale, nonprofit organization holding Certificate of Exempt Status (CES)). If the seller claims a deduction on its return for such exempt sales, the seller must keep, as a part of its records, the completed exemption certificates to prove that the sales are exempt.

Exempt sales to federal and Wisconsin governmental units, including Wisconsin cities, villages, towns, and public schools, must be supported by one of the following:

- The organization's CES number which is recorded on the seller's copy of the invoice, or
- A purchase order received from the exempt governmental unit listing the exempt governmental unit as the buyer, or
- An exemption certificate received from the exempt governmental unit.

Exempt sales to organizations holding a CES number, other than the governmental units listed above (for example, churches), must be supported by either one of the following:

- The CES number of the organization, recorded on the seller's copy of the invoice, or
- An exemption certificate received from the organization.

3. Occasional Sale Exemption

CAUTION: The following information relating to occasional sales does not apply to sales by auctioneers or nonprofit organizations or to sales of business assets or registered or titled items, such as motor vehicles or boats.

Sales of tangible personal property or services by persons who do not hold a seller's permit and are not required to hold a seller's permit are exempt as "occasional sales." A person is generally not required to hold a Wisconsin seller's permit if the person's "taxable sales"* are less than $1,000 in a calendar year or if the person's sales are isolated or sporadic.

Note: "Taxable sales," for purposes of the occasional sale exemption, means the total of all sales of tangible personal property and taxable services in Wisconsin, less allowable deductions.

"Allowable deductions" include:

- Sales of exempt merchandise or services (for example, fruit and vegetables sold for consumption off the premises)

* See Note in shaded box on Pages 4 and 5 for the definition of "taxable sales."

of the seller).

- Sales for which the seller receives properly completed exemption certificates from its customers.
- Sales to exempt entities (for example, sales to Wisconsin governmental units).

Exception: “Allowable deductions” does not include tax paid purchases resold, which is deducted on line 5, Form ST-12.

Example: Individual A sells paintings to art galleries. Individual A also sells paintings at art shows. Individual A’s total gross receipts are $45,000. Sales to art galleries, for which Individual A receives exemption certificates claiming resale, account for $35,000 of Individual A’s total gross receipts. Sales at art shows, for which Individual A does not receive exemption certificates, account for the other $10,000 of Individual A’s gross receipts.

Individual A’s “taxable sales” are $10,000.

If a seller’s “taxable sales”* are less than $1,000 in a calendar year, the sales are exempt.

Exception: The taxable sales do not qualify for the occasional sale exemption if the seller holds a seller’s permit at the time of the sales, or does not hold a seller’s permit but is required to hold a seller’s permit.

Example 1: In July and August each year, Individual B sells bird houses at several craft sales. Individual B does not hold a seller’s permit and does not make any other “taxable sales”* of tangible personal property or taxable services. Individual B’s receipts from selling bird houses are $500 for the calendar year 2006.

Individual A’s 2006 sales of $500 qualify as exempt occasional sales, because Individual B:

- Does not hold a seller’s permit, and is not required to hold a seller’s permit, and
- Has “taxable sales”* of less than $1,000 in 2006.

Example 2: Same as Example 1, except that Individual B’s sales of bird houses are $1,500 for the calendar year 2006.

Individual B’s sales of bird houses do not qualify as exempt occasional sales. Individual B is required to hold a seller’s permit, because Individual B is engaged in business as a seller of tangible personal property and Individual B’s “taxable sales”* are $1,000 or more for the calendar year 2006.

Example 3: Same as Example 2, except that Individual B’s $1,500 sales of bird houses are made at one craft sale, rather than at several craft sales. Individual B’s sales qualify for the occasional sale exemption, because Individual B does not hold a seller’s permit and is not required to hold a seller’s permit. The reason that Individual B is not required to hold a seller’s permit is because its sales are isolated or sporadic.

Example 4: On September 20, 2006, Individual C purchases a portable popcorn stand and popcorn popping equipment. Individual C begins selling popcorn at fairs and carnivals in Wisconsin. From September 20, 2006 through the end of the 2006 season, Individual C’s receipts from selling popcorn are $900. Individual C does not hold a seller’s permit and does not make any other “taxable sales”* of tangible personal property or taxable services during the calendar year 2006.

Individual C’s 2006 sales of $900 of popcorn do not qualify as exempt occasional sales, because Individual C was required to hold a seller’s permit starting on September 20, 2006. The facts and circumstances indicate that Individual C is pursuing a business as a vendor of tangible personal property (popcorn) starting on September 20, 2006.

Example 5: Company D is a retailer of carpeting and rugs, with its store located in Illinois. Company D does not hold a Wisconsin seller's permit. Company D's total gross receipts from sales of carpeting and rugs are $500,000 for the calendar year 2006. Of the $500,000 of receipts, $499,200 are from sales which occurred in Illinois. The remaining $800 are from sales of rugs at a flea market in Wisconsin. Company D makes no other sales of tangible personal property or taxable services in Wisconsin.

Company D's 2006 "taxable sales"* are $800 and qualify as exempt occasional sales, because Company D:

- Does not hold a Wisconsin seller's permit and is not required to hold a Wisconsin seller's permit, and
- Has "taxable sales"* of less than $1,000 in 2006.

Example 6: Same as Example 5, except that Company D's sales of rugs at a flea market in Wisconsin are $1,500. Company D's sales of rugs in Wisconsin do not qualify as exempt occasional sales. Company D is required to hold a seller's permit, because Company D is engaged in business as a seller of tangible personal property and Company D's "taxable sales" (sales of rugs at a flea market in Wisconsin) are $1,000 or more for the calendar year 2006.

Example 7: Individual E is a farmer who sells $100,000 of vegetables in Wisconsin during the calendar year 2006. On August 27, 2006, Individual E sells $2,000 of flowers at a farmer's market in Wisconsin. Individual E makes no other sales of flowers in Wisconsin during the calendar year 2006.

Individual E's sales of flowers do not qualify as exempt occasional sales. Individual E is required to hold a seller's permit, because Individual E is engaged in business as a seller of tangible personal property and Individual E's "taxable sales"* (sales of flowers) are $1,000 or more for the calendar year 2006.

Additional information regarding the occasional sale exemption can also be found in a tax release published in Wisconsin Tax Bulletin 122, pages 30-37, which can be accessed from the department's web site at www.dor.state.wi.us/ise/wtb/index.html.

III. PURCHASES BY SELLERS

A. Resale

Tangible personal property and taxable services purchased by a seller that it will sell to its customers may be purchased without tax by providing an exemption certificate indicating resale to its supplier. Sales tax is collected by the seller when the tangible personal property and taxable services are sold to its customers. Tangible personal property and taxable services that are used by the seller, rather than sold, may not be purchased without tax for resale.

While the gross receipts of a concessionaire operating recreational devices or facilities at a fair, carnival, festival, or other temporary event are subject to Wisconsin sales tax, the concessionaire may purchase the prizes to be awarded to customers without tax for resale. A concessionaire is liable for Wisconsin sales or use tax on its purchase of tokens to be used in machines and paper tickets that are dispensed from machines.

Example: Individual H sells pillows at craft shows. Individual H purchases fabric, thread, pillow stuffing, and a scissors. By providing his supplier with an exemption certificate indicating resale, Individual H may purchase the fabric, thread, and pillow stuffing without tax. Since the scissors will be used by Individual H and not sold to Individual H's customers, Individual H may not purchase the scissors without tax for resale. Individual H's sales of the pillows are subject to tax, unless an exemption applies.

B. Sellers May Owe Tax On Items Purchased For Resale

A seller who qualifies for the occasional sale exemption must pay Wisconsin sales or use tax on its purchases of tangible personal property which it sells at temporary events in Wisconsin.

Use tax is the counterpart of sales tax and is paid directly to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue using one of the following methods:

- Form UT-5 - This return may be used to report use tax due by persons that do not hold a seller's permit, consumer's use tax certificate, or use tax certificate. It is due on the last day of the month following the calendar quarter in which the property was first purchased, used, stored, or consumed in Wisconsin.
- Register for a Consumer's Use Tax Certificate - A consumer's use tax certificate is required for every business that regularly purchases or leases taxable property or services for storage, use, or consumption in Wisconsin upon which a sales or use tax was not paid. This certificate is not required if a business already holds a seller's permit or use tax certificate. The holder of a consumer's use tax certificate will be sent sales and use tax returns (Form ST-12) to report and pay use tax.
- Individual Income Tax Return - Persons filing a Wisconsin Form 1, Form 1A, or Form 1NPR (nonresident and part-year resident form) for reporting individual income taxes may report and pay their use tax on the line titled "Sales and use tax due on out-of-state purchases."

These forms may be obtained from any Department of Revenue office or from the department's web site at www.dor.state.wi.us. A consumer's use tax certificate may be applied for by either of the following methods:

- Complete Form BTR-101, Application for Business Tax Registration, and mail it to the Department of Revenue. Form BTR-101 may be obtained from any Department of Revenue office or online at www.dor.state.wi.us/forms/sales/index.html.
- Use the Department of Revenue's online registration system and submit the application electronically. Go to <https://ww2.dor.state.wi.us/GenericFile/application?interview=1086489>.

If another state's tax was properly paid on the purchase of the property, the amount of Wisconsin state use tax due may be offset by the state tax paid to the other state. Similarly, the amount of Wisconsin county and/or stadium use tax due may be offset by a similar local sales or use tax properly paid in the other state.

Example 1: Sales Tax Paid - Individual I sells $500 of jewelry at a festival in July 2006. Individual I paid Wisconsin sales tax on his purchase of the jewelry that he sells. Individual I makes no other sales of tangible personal property or taxable services in Wisconsin during the calendar year 2006. Individual I does not hold a Wisconsin seller's permit and is not required to hold a Wisconsin seller's permit. Individual I's sales of jewelry qualify as exempt occasional sales. Since Individual I paid sales tax on his purchases, no use tax is due.

Example 2: Use Tax Owed - Individual J sells $500 of jewelry at a festival in July 2006. Individual J did not pay sales tax on his purchase of the jewelry that he sells. Individual J makes no other sales of tangible personal property or taxable services in Wisconsin during the calendar year 2006. Individual J does not hold a Wisconsin seller's permit and is not required to hold a Wisconsin seller's permit. Individual J's sales of jewelry qualify as exempt occasional sales. Individual J must pay Wisconsin use tax on his purchases of jewelry that he sells.

Example 3: Use Tax Owed; Credit Allowed - Individual K sells $500 of jewelry at a festival in July 2006. Individual K properly paid the 5% Iowa sales tax on his Iowa purchase of the jewelry that he sells. Individual K makes no other sales of tangible personal property or taxable services in Wisconsin during the calendar year 2006. Individual K does not hold a Wisconsin seller's permit and is not required to hold a Wisconsin seller's permit. Individual K's sales of jewelry qualify as exempt occasional sales. A credit of the 5% Iowa sales tax paid is allowed against the 5% Wisconsin use tax due since the Iowa sales tax was properly paid on the purchase of the jewelry. Therefore, Individual K does not owe Wisconsin state use tax on his purchase of the jewelry.

IV. INFORMATION FOR OPERATORS OF TEMPORARY EVENTS

The law requires the operator of a temporary event to report certain information about all sellers at the event, including those whose sales may be exempt from sales tax.

For purposes of this publication, an operator is a person or entity (such as an individual, association, partnership, corporation, or nonprofit organization) that arranges, organizes, promotes, or sponsors an event. An operator may also be referred to as an organizer, exhibitor, or decorator. An operator may or may not be the owner of the property or premises where the event takes place. An operator may also be a seller at the event.

A. What Information Must Be Furnished?

An operator of a temporary event must furnish to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue the following information:

Operator and Event Information

- Name and address of operator
- Telephone number of operator
- E-mail address of operator
- Name of the event
- Date or dates of the event
- Location of the event

Seller Information

- Legal name
- Business name
- Address
- Telephone number
- E-mail address
- Tax account number, if available**
- Social security number
- Federal ID number, if applicable

The above seller information must be provided for all sellers selling merchandise or services at a temporary event.

**Six-digit seller's permit numbers were issued by the department until late 2002. Subsequently, the department has issued 15-digit tax account numbers specific to taxpayers or entities. A three-digit prefix of 004 is used to indicate that a seller's permit has been issued to a taxpayer. No change has occurred in the reporting requirements. Only the number used to identify the seller has changed. The 15-digit tax account number should be used when it is available.

B. Collecting and Reporting the Information

1. Collecting the Information

Form S-240, Temporary Event Operator and Seller Information, is available for the operator to collect the information from the sellers that must be reported to the Department of Revenue. The operator may print or photocopy this form for distribution to the sellers. Both sides of the form should be printed or photocopied and given to the sellers, because the back of the form has the instructions on it. Form S-240 is available on the Department of Revenue's web site at www.dor.state.wi.us/html/temevent.html. A copy of Form S-240 with instructions is provided at the end of this publication.

Note: Form S-240 is not an application for a seller's permit. For information about how to obtain a seller's permit, see Part II.D on page 2.

If the operator has all event participants complete the Form S-240 and reports this information to the Department of Revenue, the operator will be relieved of the responsibility of determining who is required to have a seller's permit at the event.

2. Reporting the Information

An operator has the following options to comply with its obligation to report sellers' information at the event to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue:

- a. An operator may hand write or type Part A of Form S-240, reproduce the number of copies it will need, and mail or deliver copies to all the sellers participating at the event.
- b. An operator may go to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue's web site at www.dor.state.wi.us/html/temevent.html, open the PDF fillable form (S-240), fill in its information, print, reproduce, and mail or deliver copies to all the sellers participating at the event.

- c. If the operator has all the required sellers' information, the operator may (1) mail the completed forms to the Department of Revenue at the address below, or (2) use the Excel spreadsheet provided at www.dor.state.wi.us/html/temevent.html to report the information. (Excel viewer is available.) The operator should fill in the information for all sellers participating at the event and e-mail the spreadsheet to tempevtprg@dor.state.wi.us or mail a printed version to:

Wisconsin Department of Revenue
Temporary Events Program
Compliance Bureau
265 W. Northland Avenue
Appleton, WI 54911

CAUTION: Failure of the seller to provide information to the operator does not relieve the operator of the requirement to provide information to the Department of Revenue.

C. When Must the Information Be Furnished?

An operator is required to furnish its sellers' information to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue within 10 days following the close of each event. The department requests, however, that this information be submitted as soon as possible and prior to the start of each event. An operator is required to furnish the information to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue for every event. An operator should notify the Temporary Events Program Coordinator when it will no longer operate at events in Wisconsin.

D. How Do Operators Report Multiple Events?

An operator who operates continuing or successive events has the option of (1) reporting all sellers for each event, or (2) contacting the Temporary Events Program Coordinator to request approval to report under an alternative method such as monthly or quarterly reporting. Regardless of the method approved, reporting of some type is required for each event.

E. How Will This Information Be Used?

The information will be used by the Wisconsin Department of Revenue to inform sellers of their Wisconsin tax registration and reporting responsibilities

F. What if Operators Fail to Provide Information?

The law provides for penalties to be imposed upon the operator for failure to provide the requested seller information. If an operator fails to provide the requested seller information, a $200 penalty for the first failure and $500 for each subsequent failure may be imposed.

V. OTHER TAXES AND FEES TO BE AWARE OF

Individuals and businesses that have business activities or earn income in Wisconsin may also be subject to Wisconsin taxes other than sales and use taxes. Although the information below is not intended to be all-inclusive, it may be helpful in obtaining information about other Wisconsin taxes.

Individual Income Tax: Every person who is a resident of Wisconsin and who has gross income of more than a certain amount is subject to Wisconsin income taxes, regardless of where the income is earned.

A person who is a nonresident of Wisconsin is subject to Wisconsin income taxes if he or she has gross income of $2,000 or more from personal services performed in Wisconsin or from business or property in Wisconsin.

Additional information on filing requirements is available on the department's web site at www.dor.state.wi.us/faqs/index-i.html. For other information, please see the department's web site or write to: Wisconsin Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 8949, Madison, WI 53708-8949 or call any department office. The Madison office telephone number is (608) 266-2772.

Corporation Income or Franchise Tax: Every corporation organized under the laws of Wisconsin or licensed to do business in Wisconsin (except certain organizations exempt under sec. 71.26(1), Wis. Stats.) is required to file a Wisconsin corporate franchise or income tax return, regardless of whether or not business was transacted. Unlicensed corporations are also required to file returns for each year they do business or have certain business activities in Wisconsin.

For more information, write to: Wisconsin Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 8906, Madison, WI 53708-8906 or call any department office. The Madison office telephone number is (608) 266-2772.

Withholding Tax: If an employer has employees in Wisconsin, the employer may be required to withhold Wisconsin income taxes from the employees' wages. An employer required to withhold must apply for a withholding registration certificate from the department.

For more information, write to: Wisconsin Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 8949, Madison, WI 53708-8949 or call any department office. The Madison office telephone number is (608) 266-2776.

Estimated Tax for Individuals: Estimated income tax payments are required for persons that expect to owe $200 or more of income tax with their income tax return. The estimated tax requirement applies to full-year residents, part-year residents, and nonresidents. An interest charge may be imposed for failing to make these payments.

For more information, write Wisconsin Department of Revenue, Mail Stop 3-164, P.O. Box 8903, Madison, WI 53708-8903 or call any department office. The Madison office telephone number is (608) 266-9940.

Estimated Tax for Corporations: Corporations must make estimated income or franchise tax payments if their current year tax liability will be $500 or more, unless they owed no tax for the previous twelve-month tax year.

For more information, write Wisconsin Department of Revenue, Mail Stop 3-138, P.O. Box 8906, Madison, WI 53708-8906 or call any department office. The Madison office telephone number is (608) 266-0800.

Unemployment and Worker's Compensation: Unemployment and worker's compensation are administered by the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development. # INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING OPERATOR AND SELLER INFORMATION

Part A - Operator:

An Operator is defined as a person or entity (such as an individual, association, partnership, corporation, or nonprofit organization) that arranges, organizes, promotes, or sponsors an event. An Operator may also be referred to as an organizer, exhibitor, or decorator. An Operator may or may not be the owner of the property or premises where the event takes place. An Operator may also be a Seller at the event.

Operators have the following options to comply with their obligation to report Sellers at the event to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue:

- a. Hand write Part A, reproduce the number of copies you will need, and mail or deliver copies to all the Sellers participating at the event.
- b. Go to the Department of Revenue's website at www.dor.state.wi.us/html/temevent.html, open the PDF fillable form (S-240), fill in your information, print, reproduce, and mail or deliver copies to all the Sellers participating at the event.
- c. If you have all the required Sellers' information, use the Excel spreadsheet, provided at www.dor.state.us/html/temevent.html. (Excel viewer is available.) Fill in the information for all Sellers participating at the event and e-mail the spreadsheet to tempevtprg@dor.state.wi.us or mail a printed version to:

Temporary Events Program
Wisconsin Department Of Revenue
265 W. Northland Ave.
Appleton, WI 54911

1. Name and Address - It is important that you enter an address, so that the Seller knows where to send the completed form.

Part B - Seller:

A Seller is defined as a person or entity involved with selling merchandise or providing taxable services at a temporary event. A Seller may also be referred to as a vendor, exhibitor, or booth owner.

1. Enter your individual, partnership, association, or corporate name.
3. Enter the address of the physical location of your business. Do not fill in a post office box number.
6. Enter your Wisconsin Tax Account Number.

You can find this number on your Business Tax Registration Certificate or Sales and Use Tax Return (Form ST-12). This number is not your 6-digit seller's permit number issued to you prior to December 31, 2002.

Important: This form is not an application for a Wisconsin Tax Account Number. If you do not already have a seller's permit and, therefore, a Tax Account Number, you will need to apply for one directly with the Department of Revenue prior to the event. The application (Form BTR-101) is available on the department's website, www.dor.state.wi.us.

Not all Sellers are required to obtain a Wisconsin seller's permit. Some of the reasons a Seller may not need a seller's permit are:

- The Seller only sells tax-exempt items, such as vegetables for home consumption.
- The Seller has less than $1,000 of taxable sales during the calendar year and does not hold, and is not required to hold, a Wisconsin seller's permit. Total taxable sales is total sales in Wisconsin of otherwise taxable tangible personal property and services after subtracting allowable exemptions.

If you have questions regarding applying for a Wisconsin seller's permit, contact any Department of Revenue office or call (608) 266-2776.

7. Enter your Social Security Number. This is required if you do not already have a Tax Account Number.
9. If you are selling merchandise or a service, including the sale, rental, lease, exchange, trade, or taking orders of any merchandise, goods, products, or admissions for money or other consideration, check the "Selling Merchandise or Service" box.

If you are just displaying and not making sales or taking orders at this event, check the "Display Only" box.

A Seller must return this completed form to the event Operator listed in Part A on or before the first day of the event.

Revenue Field Agents enforce compliance at temporary events. Sellers must have evidence of their Seller's Permit at the event.
